Dear all;

Thank you again for the warm reception upon my arrival to St. Nicholas. This has been a difficult week for me because my wife Lori returned to Washington to assist my daughter Marya, who is undergoing chemo treatments. I ask for your prayers! I am not used to being alone, although it seems that I have been over the last 3 1/2 yrs, being in seminary and my time in Texas.

I have been busy this week getting my Alaska drivers license and truck registration in order. Been unpacking boxes and trying to keep the rectory clean & orderly, the way my wife left it and getting familiar with the office computer. I thank everyone who has stopped by to help me this past week; those who cleaned, those who work in the office and those who just came by to give me support & check on me. Thank you Peter for getting my wi-fi and email situation worked out! Thank you Terri for sharing your son.

Please come to the weekly Services if they are able to fit your schedule. My father used to tell me; "time spent in the Lord's House is not wasted." Bishop Fulton Sheen once stated, "Today people are looking for God not because of the order they find in the universe, but because of the disorder they find in themselves." Please keep in mind that God dwells in our Church and He waits for you here! Have a blessed week! Fr. Joseph +
